

"Reflecting His Glory"

THE FINIAL

The word "finial" is defined by Webster as "a crowning ornament or detail." These finials were originally located on the two towers on the old Columbia Bible College campus. They are presently located in the front yard of Cecil Hawkins' home on faculty row.

The Finial: a crowning ornament, was adopted as the title of the CBC/CGS Year-book in 1939. In the keeping of this tradition, it is the 1980 Finial Staff's prayer that this year's book would be the crowning of a year dedicated to the glory of Jesus Christ, as reflected in the students, faculty and staff of Columbia Bible College and Columbia Graduate School of Bible and Missions.

Volume 41

An aerial photograph of a school campus. In the foreground, there's a curved running track. Several large, multi-story school buildings are scattered across the middle ground. Large parking lots filled with cars are visible, particularly along the top and right edges of the campus. A large, open grassy area is in the center. The background is a dense line of trees.

REFLECTING HIS GLORY . . .

In the Psalms reference is made to the refining of silver. This process is a very delicate one in which the silversmith slowly increases the heat under the raw molten silver. Each time the fire is increased, impurities are yielded up and skimmed off. As the silversmith looks in he sees a dim reflection of himself. Our Master is refining us with the fires of trials and testings. Are you yielding up the impurities of your life? What kind of reflection does the Master see?

"In this you greatly rejoice, even though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been distressed by various trials, that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold which is tested by fire, may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ."

I Peter 1:6,7

"Let your light shine before men in such a way that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in Heaven."

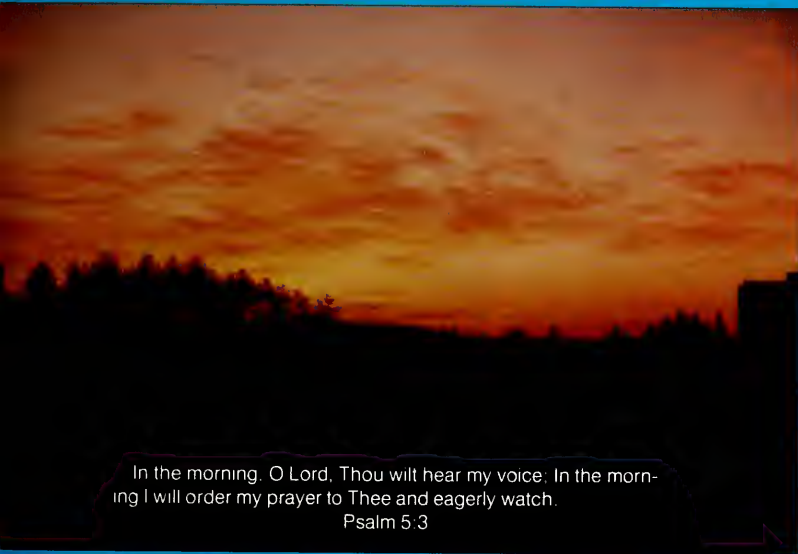

Matthew 5:16

Reflecting His Glory . . .

IN WORD

"We have been commanded to proclaim the Word of God, in season and out of season. Wherever God's Word is used it carries with it His authority, whether it be in preaching, singing, or one-to-one sharing. For as the rain and the snow come down from heaven, and do not return there without watering the earth, and making it bear and sprout, and furnishing seed to the sower and bread to the eater, So shall My word be, which goes forth from My mouth; It shall not return to Me empty, without accomplishing what I desire, and without succeeding in the matter for which I sent it." Isaiah 55:10,11

Reflecting His Glory . . .

In Memory of

MARGARET CHILDS

"That I may know Him, and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being made conformable unto His death." Philippians 3:10

The LORD is my shepherd, I shall not want. He makes me lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside quiet waters. He restores my soul; He guides me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me. Thou dost prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies; Thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup overflows. Surely goodness and lovingkindness will follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever.

One of her favorite passages was the 23rd Psalm and it clearly reflects her experience with God. She was born in Columbia in 1888 and her life testified that she loved the Lord Jesus more than anyone else on earth. The gentleness of the passage seems to express so beautifully the gentleness in her life and quiet confidence in our Lord's provision. She, in turn, was free to share her time, strength and possessions with others. She expressed a very gentle sense of humor, often directed at herself and never at the expense of anyone else. In the most dire circumstances a sparkle would come to her eye and then, — the smile.

Through Christ, and a personal relationship with Him, God had given her life, and indeed had imparted to her Himself. Because of this, she never tired of sharing Christ. Surely, her life was entirely guided in right paths by her wonderful Lord. This guidance was especially evident toward then end of the second decade of this century when she and a small group of women joined to pray that God would give them a Bible training school in the south. It was an enormous prayer for a small band of young women to pray and yet they were guided by right paths. On February 16th, Margaret Childs handed in her resignation after over more than 50 years of service on the Board of Trustees. Through the years, she had guided in right paths, an insignificant work as it grew to become a major center of Biblical training, laboring endlessly so that it would indeed follow these right paths.

She had once copied a quote from Spurgeon entitled "The Crown of Life." "When we bless God for mercies we prolong them, and when we bless Him for miseries we usually end them. To praise is the honey of life, which a devout heart sucks from every blossom of providence, and grace as well be dead, as be without praise. It is the Crown of Life." She added a note of her own to the end of this, "I'm far from living up to this but my eyes are unto Him." In summarizing her walk with the Lord, nothing more can be said, but that her life was a beautiful reflection of the Lord Jesus Christ whom she loved and served.

Reflecting His Glory . . . In Memory of

G. W. "POP" SUPPLEE

George Washington Supplee was a herald of salvation. He was a man who lived with eternity's values in view. A man who knew that the only things that will last for eternity are God, the Word of God, and the souls of men. And because of this correct conviction he ordered his life accordingly. He was a man who like Isaiah was the king and heard the eternal unchanging conversation of the Godhead as Father, Son, and Spirit poured out their mutual concern. "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" And, with unquestioning obedience he answered, "Here am I, Lord, send me!" He knew that God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to a knowledge of the truth. He understood the ringing questions of Paul in Romans 10: "How then, shall they call on him in whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach except they be sent?" And so, after graduating from Penn State 58 years ago, he and his dear wife went out to northeast India as educational missionaries. In the city of Kohima he established a school which eventually grew to 1,000 students. He translated the entire New Testament into Angami Naga, the language of that area. After 27 years of hard work, Pop and Mom Supplee were forced to leave India by the government.

But that was only the beginning of their missionary work. Pop Supplee realized long ago that being a missionary is basically a matter of heart, not location. And, he realized that true missionary vision encompasses the whole world, not just the area in which one may be physically present. And so, wherever he found himself, Pop was the Lord's witness in that place, whether it was a letter, on the phone, at the nursing home, in a church, in the classroom, wherever he was.

But at the same time, he constantly carried God's heart burden for the whole world. And we know this, not just because he said he had a burden for the world, but because he demonstrated it by what he did. After returning from India he didn't settle down and retire, but he continued unstintingly in the Lord's work. He taught missions and cults at the CBC Graduate School of Bible and Missions, as well as substitute teaching at the Bible College in the area of music and evangelism. But besides these things, Pop has had a ministry of prayer and giving, and writing which has touched the lives of countless missionaries and affected the work of God in scores of countries around the world. Pop had a file of over 1,000 cards and on those cards were the names of missionaries around the world to whom he wrote and for whom he prayed. He kept accurate record of every letter received and written. Pop was a man like Elijah, a man subject to like passions as we are . . . a man who often barked and growled about our grammar, about the way we sang hymns wrong, about gum chewing and neatness in dress, about our prayer letters . . . but his consternation was based on his concern, a concern that each of us present the Good News in a way that is befitting for a servant of the king. And underlying all his foibles and unique traits was a heart of love for His Lord, for individuals, and for the world.

Reflecting His Glory . . .

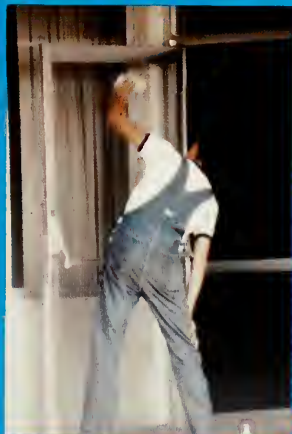

IN DEED

There is a lot of truth in the old saying, "Actions speak louder than words." James addresses this issue when he says, "You have faith and I have works; show me your faith without the works, and I will show you my faith by my works." He goes on to say that, "Faith without works is dead." It is easy to say, "For me to live is Christ," but in reality this means totally yielding our will to God's will and allowing God to work through us. Christ uses the analogy of the body to depict the fact that He is the head and we are the parts of the body with which He carries out His will here on earth. Jesus sent us out to be a light unto the world, reflecting His glory. We can proclaim God's word, but we must also be willing to live it, lest we make a mockery of God.

"Whatever you do, do all to the glory of God."
I Corinthians 10:31

"So speak and so act, as those who are to be judged by the law of liberty."
James 2:12

Reflecting His Glory . . .

IN DEDICATION BILL LEAVEL

"The Lord is my light and my salvation — Whom shall I fear?" This is the foundation on which Mr. Leavel stands; to bring Honor and Glory to the one who saved him! Truly, Mr. Leavel is Reflecting His Glory.

CONGRATULATIONS!

William F. Leavel is one of the most important people on this campus, and yet, one of the least recognized. Dedicated to the Lord, the CBC family, and his work, he pours himself into everything he does. He bends over backwards to please the students, create a home-like atmosphere, and to provide special events to help provide variety, the Spice of Life.

In recognition of these facts, the 1980 Finial Staff would like to, in turn, dedicate this year's book to Bill Leavel as a small token of the student's appreciation for him and the many hours he spends in being God's servant to us. Truly, without this man, there would be a very "empty feeling" on this campus.

An overwhelming gratitude for his salvation sent Bill Leavel down several paths of searching for a real way to serve his Lord and Savior. "For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve and to give His life a ransom for many." (Mark 10:45)

Born into a loving Christian family, he made a decision for Christ as a young child. As often happens, his teen years were not given to nurturing his faith. His outward actions, but not his heart, were diverted for a time.

At the Billy Graham crusade in 1954, he came to a realization that his life was not what he would like it to be. Making a full commitment to Christ, he prayed earnestly for God's direction. A number of years passed before he was asked to come to CBC. On his first visit to CBC he called his wife saying, "Catherine, I can't wait for you to see this place! You're going to love it!"

Feeling inadequate, but secure in the Lord, he came to work at CBC in April, 1966. He and his family immediately fell in love with the students, and a lot of hard work was on the agenda! Having been associated with food products most of his working years, his training with Miss Dowdle, the retiring Food Services Director, was a real pleasure.

One of his greatest desires for the students, has been to make the transition from home to college as "de"-institutionalized as possible. A feeling of coming into one's own dining room is a reality he hopes every student will have. Being a fun loving person himself, he longs for a comfortable, peaceful atmosphere to prevail. "Better a dry morsel and quietness with it, than a house full of feasting with strife." (Proverbs 17:1)

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek." (Romans 1:16) It is his desire for all whom he serves to know his Lord! So caught up in God's love for him, he eats, breathes and sleeps, his love and concern for CBC students. In spite of any hardships that come his way, be it his real family or his "adopted" one, he remains steadfast in his faith acclaiming Hebrews 13:8, "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, and today, yes and forever."

"This is my commandment, that you love one another, just as I have loved you." This is an underlying thread that runs through every aspect of Mr. Leavel's life. He has a genuine love and concern for his employees. "We love, because He first loved us," sums it up spiritually, but his Head Cook summed it up humanly when she said, "You ain't gonna find no better boss-man!"

Reflecting His Glory . . .

IN TRUTH

John's gospel tells us that truth is a characteristic of Christ: "I am the way, the truth, and the life . . ." Therefore, truth should also be demonstrated as a characteristic of our lives. In John's first letter he says, "Let us not love with word or with tongue, but in deed and in truth." Paul adds that in "whatever you do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks through Him to God the Father."

How then do we reflect His glory? — In Word, In Deed, and In Truth. And though we be tested by fire as silver, we can be confident that "He who began a good work in you will perfect it until the day of Christ Jesus." (Philippians 1:6)

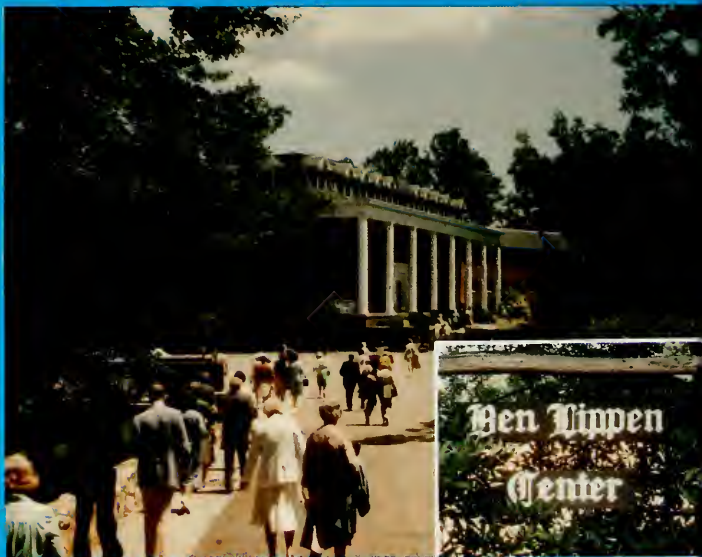

Ben Lippin Conference

At Ben Lippin (the "mountain of trust") in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Asheville, North Carolina, heaven and earth meet in conferences which refresh and encourage Christians in new steps of growth. For over half a century highly qualified men and women of the Word have related truth to individual and family living.

Ben Lippin Camp

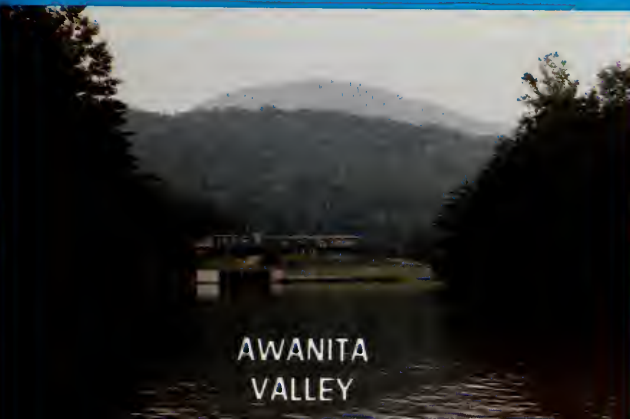

Campers 9-15 years old participate in the bustle and fun of cabin living, sports, nature crafts, skits and campfires, while they receive Christian training by instruction and example. Those over 16 share the unique experiences of backpacking-canoing camps. Most of the camps are concurrent with the adult conferences.

Ben Lippen School

A Christian resident high school (grades 9-12) grounded on the truths of Scripture, featuring academic excellence (90% go on to college), disciplined lifestyle, extracurricular excitement (including a traveling choir and championship soccer squad) and lifetime friendships with students from almost every state and "missionary kids" from all over the world.

AWANITA VALLEY

Awanita Valley is a facility operated by volunteers in the foothills of N.W. South Carolina. Retreats are often scheduled here and enjoyed by all. They graciously provide such recreation as skiing, boating, canoeing, horseback riding, jeep riding, etc. . . .

FACULTY / STAFF

FACULTY/STAFF

PRESIDENT

J. R. McQuilkin

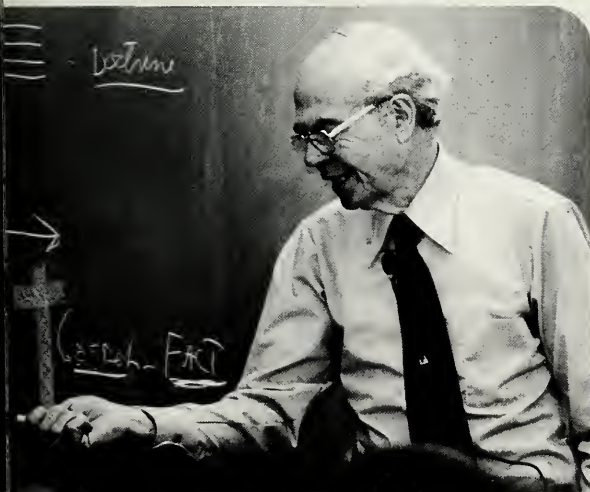

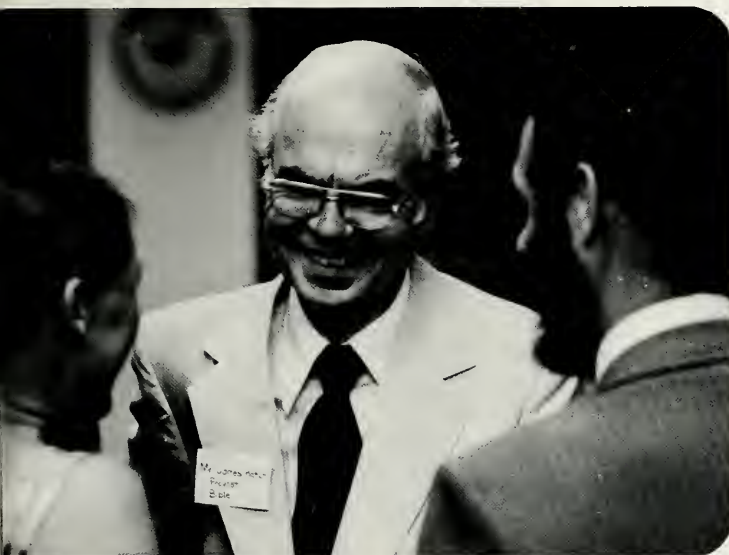

J. Robertson McQuilkin assumed the office of President in 1968. In addition to this position, he teaches Christian Life, Christian Work and Hermeneutics. "He's not your ordinary President by any means. He gets involved with the students and genuinely cares about us." It is not unusual to hear him tell a student, "Oh, by the way, I prayed for you this morning." Truly, President McQuilkin and his supportive wife dramatically reflect the glory of Jesus Christ.

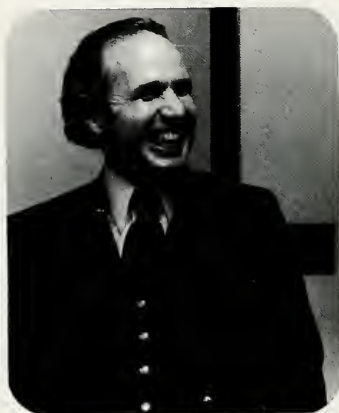

PROVOST

James M. Hatch

"Buck" Hatch has been at Columbia Bible College since 1947. In addition to fulfilling the office of Provost, he teaches English Bible, Psychology and Family Life. He has been used dramatically by our Lord in transforming the lives of many. "His tests are hard, but I always learn more in his classes than can ever be imagined. His teaching carries with it a force unlike anything I can explain. All I can say, is that God has given him a tremendous grasp of His Word. Praise the Lord."

ORGANIZATIONS

COORDINATING COUNCIL

With a great deal less fanfare than that seen at Buckingham Palace, CBC experienced its own "changing of the guard," of sorts. This year witnessed a major change in the structure of student government with the old SA taking on a new role and a new organization coming on the scene to coordinate the various student groups on campus. The new organization was aptly named the Student Coordinating Council. The Council is made up of the presidents and vice-presidents of SA and the Grad Life Council and the presidents of SFMF and the Off Campus Student Organization. The International Student Organization, the Finial, the Cebecean, and WCBC radio also come under the Council's "jurisdiction." "But what is the function of this group?", you might ask. Well, the function of the Council, as outlined in the purposed statement of the constitution is, "... to promote the achievement of the objectives of Columbia Bible College, and to involve the students ... in all-school events and organizations, and supervise these in such a way as to assure their success." This involves, among other things, oversight of all trans-school (grad-undergrad) events like the formal, and coordination and supervision of elections involving all student organizations. Perhaps most importantly, the Council provides a channel for students to work together with the administration toward the achievement of the school goals (remember those?).

Regarding the specific accomplishments of the Council this year, they fall into the category of "fine tuning the machinery." Being the first year of the Council's existence, we set as our objective the establishment of operating procedures which will fulfill Council responsibilities. In this way next year's group will have a functional structure from which, hopefully, most of the "bugs" have been worked out.

The Grad Life Council is concerned with all that concerns students of the Graduate School, serving as a source and channel for initiative, creative planning and communication. Student elected, the Council members are primarily involved in the spiritual and social areas of student life. Their purpose is to encourage the interpersonal ministries and fellowship which are basic to receiving maximum benefit from the academic program and to preparing for service to others. The Council is composed of a president, vice-president, and five chairmen, each being chosen to head a specific thrust (prayer, fellowship, social interaction, special projects, resources, music and chapel). In maintaining a missions emphasis, the Graduate School representatives of the Student Foreign Missions Fellowship also meet with the Grad Life Council. The Council relates to the Bible College corporate family through the Student Coordinating Council for cooperation and coordination in all-campus functions.

This year the Grad Life Council set as its overall goal to create an atmosphere which is conducive to spiritual and social growth, reminding grads of their responsibilities in interpersonal relationships with God and others with an emphasis on application. This overall goal was pursued through specific objectives toward that end.

Student Association

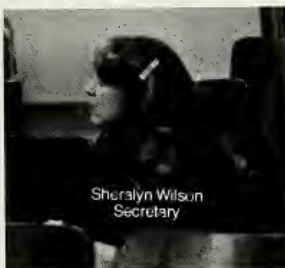

The overall objective of the undergrad student council is to reinforce our school motto, "To know Him and to make Him known." In all we do, we strive to accomplish this purpose. As we are mainly concerned with the social atmosphere, we seek to promote fellowship with one another and to stimulate one another to love and good works by encouraging one another to be more like Christ.

It is an ever changing group endeavoring to keep up with the times, maintaining that which relates to the present needs, but being ready to adapt to changes that may be beneficial to our cause. The Lord is adequate to guide us, and we endeavor in both our God given positions to do this one thing — to know Christ ... Philippians 3:10.

Women's Dorm Council

Women's Dorm Council exists for the purpose of maintaining a high standard of Christian living among the on-campus women of CBC. Efforts to achieve this objective include emphasizing personal godliness, promoting the exercise of genuine body life on the halls, and motivating one another to live in peace and submission toward God and others. Dorm Council officers and floor leaders, functioning as a body strive to model and encourage this kind of Christlike living.

That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God and of the Father, and of Christ.

Men's Dorm Council

The 1979-1980 Men's Dorm Council has had many new changes compared to previous years. Due to the increase in undergrad students, we now have seven floorleaders. Also, we have two new officers in the Council: Big-Brother Co-ordinator and Prayer Group Co-ordinator. The "B.B.C." is in charge of the supervision of the freshman big brothers. The "P.G.C." works with the dormitory prayer group leaders and provides suggestions and ideas to have more effective prayer groups.

Our major goal and emphasis has stemmed from Paul's teaching in Philippians 2:3,4 ("Others oriented").

Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourselves.
Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others. (NIV)

It has been our hope that this would become a reality now and a legacy for years to come.

Our Men's Open House had a great emphasis on hospitality. Each of our men's rooms were open for fellowship, games, and refreshments to all of our students, staff and faculty. Another function which we were involved in was the annual Valentine's Blood Drive. Through the leadership of our Vice President, both of these activities were a great success.

Jim Hunnewell, Pres.; Mark Simms, V.P.; R.A.'s: Steve Dyer, Trafford Perry, Mike Williamson; Floorleaders: Larry Campa, Frank Fox, Rich Greete, Art Joyce, Bob Musser, Diet Schindler.

S F M F

A missions leader once said, "The call to the mission field is 90' exposure and God will make the rest clear." Through the Student Foreign Mission Fellowship students have opportunities to investigate missions as a career for themselves, or to receive information and inspiration concerning world missions.

One of the primary goals of SFMF is to stress the emphasis God has placed on missions while involving the whole student body. Traditionally, a financial project has been adopted by the student body as a means of becoming involved in missions.

In an attempt to focus the student on his role in missions, SFMF presents opportunities which endeavor to balance one's view of his relationship to his own country and that of the world, from God's perspective.

The PROCLAIMER

An additional project, headed by Cindy Smith and Hewitt Tomlin is the SFMF newspaper, the Proclaimer. Its design is to assist in one of the overall FMF objectives of familiarizing students with missions and areas relating to missions. Articles are featured on missionary biographies, student input, questions and answers, current mission activities, global facts, editorials and regulars, such as "Mom McQ speaks."

World Prayer Groups

The most important function of SFMF at CBC is to encourage consistent prayer for the world. This is accomplished through eleven world prayer groups, covering different geographical areas of the world.

The leaders of these prayer groups are called "World Warriors" and each in turn is assisted by their co-leaders (Mountain Movers) and Secretaries.

We have been able to initiate many new programs within the prayer groups. Chapel prayer times, "prayer spots" broadcast over WMHK, a daily prayer partner system and a bi-weekly World Warrior Meeting are only a few of these.

As exciting and encouraging as these new programs are, the real excitement comes from the opportunity to talk with the omnipotent God and to see Him change nations, political leaders and countless lives in every area of the world, because of our prayers.

OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS

The purpose of the Off Campus Students' Organization is to bring together the off campus student community into a caring and sharing family relationship. It serves as a communication link between the school administration and the students as well as between the family units which live throughout the Columbia and outlying areas. Through chapel programs, prayer groups, seminars and a variety of other activities it seeks to enrich the spiritual and social life of the off campus students.

CO-OP

PI GAMMA

Pi Gamma is the name given to the student wives organization. "Pi" and "gamma" are the first letters of two Greek words which mean "faithful wives." The group seeks to stimulate and enhance the spiritual life of the student wife and to meet her needs. It provides fellowship with other wives and spiritual instruction for future ministry.

Pi Gamma is one of the many channels through which God can train student wives, while their husbands are receiving instruction for their future ministry in carrying out the Great Commission.

International Students

Gute morgen. Mutende. Jambo. Shalom. Tenasteling. Kon-nichiwa. Hola, que tal?

The International students come from many different language and cultural backgrounds. The International Students Association seeks to aid new Internationals to adapt to the American culture and educational system during their stay in the United States. With this goal in mind, the ISA sponsors special orientation sessions, socials, and various other involvements which include sharing experiences in entering a new culture and finding holiday accommodation. "Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God." (2 Cor. 1:3-7) Dr. Bernard Holmes is the faculty advisor for the Association and Dr. William Kornfield is the associate advisor. The International Students Team offers an opportunity for some International students to minister to local churches and have an evangelistic outreach to the community.

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Chapel Choir, one of the Music Department's music groups, primarily seeks to lead others in worship and in witness. In addition to ministry opportunities on campus and in the community, the choir is an experience in learning and performing Christian music of various styles. It also provides leadership training for four officers, four section leaders, and several accompanists.

During the fall quarter, the Chapel Choir led often in the musical worship of CBC chapels. Beyond this on-campus ministry, they sang in an evangelistic context at two correctional institutions in Columbia. On October 28 they ministered in song and in testimony for the youth at Birchwood Campus. Ted Wright, a married student and missionary, preached the sermon. Two weeks later on November 4, Chapel Choir presented a similar service at the Women's Prison, with married student Peter Picos preaching. Both times they had opportunities for witnessing in personal conversations.

AMBASSADOR CHOIR

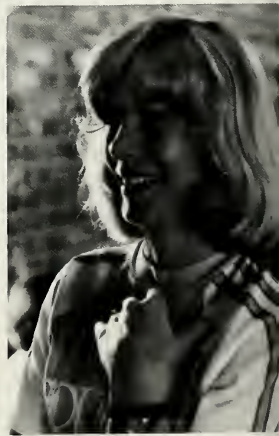

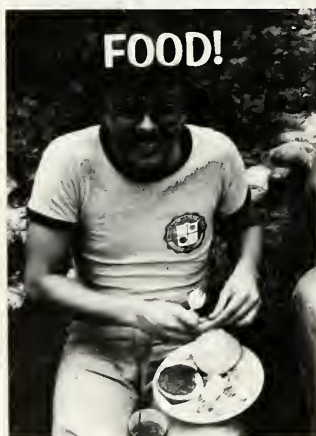

This year's Choir ministry was focused on the theme of knowing our Lord and making Him known. This has been a most challenging, and yet, a very practical message to proclaim. During the course of the year the Lord has taken us, as His ambassadors, as far south as Miami, Florida and as far north as Charlotte, North Carolina. Within the group we have endeavored to grow in our knowledge of, and likeness to, our Lord. Then, as a group, to show Him before His church through our lives and our songs. It has been our prayer that the process of knowing Him and making Him known would be instilled and encouraged in His people by our ministry.

What's in a Name?

Does T.L.C. equal Tender Loving Care, True Life in Christ, or the True Life Co. Right, the answer is the True Life Co. Actually, all three are represented by the initials T.L.C., and my prayer as the Student Director is that True Life Co. will be an unmistakable example of the other two concepts. My goal for the group this year has been to take the over-all objectives for T.L.C. and internalize them into each individual.

The primary objective is to provide training in various musical skills, different types of ministry, dealing with people, and many administrative tasks. Team members are assigned various responsibilities throughout the year. In the fulfilling of these responsibilities, guidance and correction is given as needed.

The second objective is ministry to others through testimony and song. However, I have taken this objective and applied it to the group itself. My prayer is that we will be engaged in agape-type relationships with each other. If we are not exhibiting "Tender Loving Care" toward each other in the many high-pressure situations we find ourselves in, how much less are we able to care for the needs of others outside the group?

The third and least objective (for CBC) is public relations, but I feel that this is our most important objective as individuals. We are not representing CBC, but the "True Life in Christ" that we possess.

As we hold youth rallies, concerts, radio and TV programs, etc. . . . pray that the True Life Co. will exemplify "Tender Loving Care," but more importantly, pray that people will truly recognize our "True Life in Christ."

Daniel L. Shoemaker, Student Director

The 1980 Finial Staff

The objective of this year's staff reaches far beyond the production of a "good" yearbook. As our verse indicates, we wanted this year's book to be the reflection of the glory of Jesus Christ, as seen in the Administration, Faculty, Staff and Students of Columbia Bible College.

As a staff, we were drawn together, and to God, especially through the trials and tribulations of putting a yearbook together. As the editor, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the entire staff for their hard work and dedication. I am happy to say that this year's book truly shows the efforts of each and every staff member. Thanks is also in order for Mr. Bob Williams, our advisor, for he was a constant source of patience and encouragement.

Last, but not least, "... thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved bretheren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your toil is not in vain in the Lord (1 Corinthians 15:57,58)."

Love in Jesus,

Sharon Hartley, Editor

"And whatever you do in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks through Him to God the Father."

Colossians 3:17

ACTIVITIES

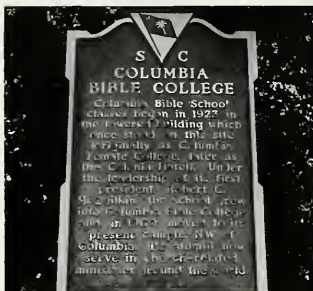

ACTIVITIES

Excitement filled the air as alumni arrived on campus. The messages delivered by Dr. D. Stuart Briscoe in the Christian Life Conference, dovetailing with Homecoming, both stimulated and challenged us in the areas of servanthood, gratitude, perspective and love.

During the reception, the business meeting, the parade and soccer game, the banquet and the messages and testimonies, the Lord provided ample opportunity for much interaction among the family. The dedication of the historical marker, commemorating the founding of CBC and a view of the first module of the "Hatch project" were special additions to our time together. By sharing needs as well as victories, alumni received and gave encouragement to live a life of triumphant faith in Jesus Christ.

By faith CBC not only came to life but also continues to live. The God who accomplished and raised up Ebenezers in the past is still in the business of miracles. By faith victory is available today. And by faith, the greatest victories are yet to be accomplished.

SKIT NIGHT WINNERS

1st Place: Seniors

2nd Place:

3rd Place: Grads

SENIORS

The Senior class presented "In Search of Jane" or "Tarzan Goes West." The skit centered around the courtship of Miss Darlene Dimples by Dudley Does-right. Dangerous Dan and Pronto were determined to prevent her from marrying the no good Dudley. From time to time, a posse entered looking for Jane and occasionally, Tarzan could be heard in the background calling for her.

In the meantime, Jane and the cowgirls had decided to kidnap Darlene to prevent her from making a wrong decision. Darlene, seeking the counsel of Chief Wisdom Tooth, decides he must have had his wisdom tooth pulled because he counseled her to stay away from Dudley.

Darlene's dilemma is resolved by E. M. entering on cue to light up her life. She agrees to become Mrs. Electronic Media and they ride off together into the spotlight.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

Finally, the night we had been waiting for had arrived. The Chapel was full of excited people, expecting an entertaining evening. As the lights dimmed, anticipation mounted. There was a flurry of activity in the left front corner of the Chapel.

Laughter began as the spotlight revealed our MCs of the evening, Gary Watanabe and Donnie Hudgens, and did not stop until the evening had come to a climactic close.

In between the class skits, various individuals and groups kept the action moving. Each member of the Music Department exhibited additional talents via their "Bottle Band."

The Deans and their staffs presented a skit full of double meanings. Dr. Wright introduced the International Berkhof Molecular Manipulator that enlarged any inanimate or animate object. The college band played their part by filling in with instrumental numbers and a felicitous spirit.

Miscellaneous

"A Parody of 'The Sound of Music' " was the Sophomore Class' contribution to Skit Night. Maria was in the final quarter of her senior year, and looking for "the" man. Much to her dismay, her Christian Service assignment was to babysit for the seven children of Baron von Tramp, an alumnus of CBC. She soon realized that this was the man she wanted to marry. To her dismay, she discovered he was a member of the "Bachelor to the Rapture Society." The skit consisted of familiar songs from "The Sound of Music," all centering around Maria's dilemma of trying to find her man.

Juniors

The final game of the World Series played in a studio? An underworld plot to fool the world that almost succeeded. The Junior class ingeniously included the audience as part of the infield and proceeded with the game. A secondary plot dealt with the unexplainable absence of the home team's star player, Slugger. The big surprise of the game was the timely appearance of Slugger, played by Mr. Scott, the class advisor.

It was a mild mannered secret agent who uncovered the plot and exposed Curt Rowdy and Howard Forsell as the dastardly sneaks they really were.

Excitement permeated the crowd as the world was "almost fooled."

GRADS

Freshmen

Grad students tore themselves away from their books to participate in "Skittish About Westerns," directed by the famous Louigi Lasagne. They introduced, in the black hat — "Big Bad Bart" and in the white hat — "Kid Chellim."

As Louigi set the stage for the shootout between Bart and the Kid, he called to the extras to "swell the crowd." Energetically 'extra' Grads entered stage right, long enough to utter their famous line, "Might get shot!" and promptly exited stage left.

Louigi's secretary faithfully recorded all the events happening on stage, including the Grads recognizing him to be a fraud and running him out of town.

This Is Your Life

The Freshman class skit was a portrayal of some of the more humorous incidents in the life of President J. Robertson McQuilkin. Mr. McQuilkin's life was traced all the way from his mischievous years at Ben Lippen as a youngster, to his present position as President of the Bible College. There was a guest appearance of "Cecil Hawkins."

Spring Quarter '79

In order to present the yearbook at the end of the related year, we are unable to display the events of Spring Quarter. Therefore, rather than totally dismissing them, this year's Final Staff would like to "reflect" back on the 1979 Spring Quarter Events.

Spring Quarter holds many exciting events and opportunities for students and non-students alike. Women's Open House has the opportunity of following the elaborate example set by our men on campus. Of course, what would Spring Quarter be without Spring Conference, a highlight for many. For those fortunate engaged couples, a conference is set aside. All-school picnic, Married Students Seminars, the Junior/Senior Banquet and last, but not least, Graduation.

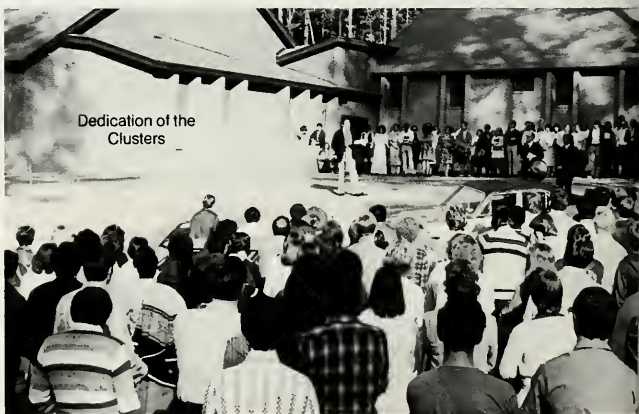

Alumni Soccer Game

At the close of the presentation of the 1979 Final, the Off-Campus students supplied a "Watermelon Feast" for the entire student body.

REFLECTIONS

"A Time to Grow"

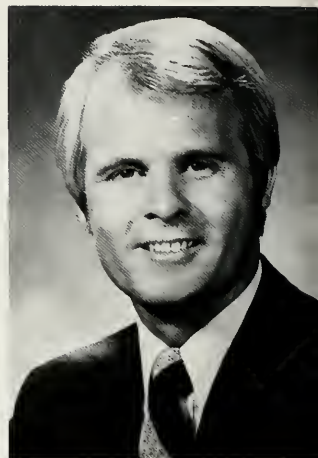

SPRING CONFERENCE offers a very special weekend of Christian fellowship, Bible teaching and fun. High school juniors and seniors, along with college-aged young people are given a good chance to look at key issues in their lives . . . things like life's purpose, happiness and fulfillment . . . all examined from a biblical point of view. As many as possible are housed in the dorms for a true taste of college life. Many churches sponsor groups, such as the one pictured here from Norfolk, Va., from which came Dean Woodward and Beth Lodge.

Music is a big part of this weekend, featuring the True Life Company and the Ambassador Choir, plus other musicians for plenty of great sounds. Special Social and Recreational Events play an active part in the weekend, not the least of which includes a picnic down by the lake. April 20-22, 1979, presented Josh McDowell as the guest speaker. For many, Spring Conference is a confirmation of their desire to attend CBC, but one of the primary purposes for the conference is to encourage the Spiritual growth of each and every individual. Spring Conference is truly a "Time to Grow!"

THE JUNIOR/SENIOR

The Class of '80 hosted the Class of '79 for a day of fun filled excitement. The afternoon was spent in Columbia's beautiful Riverbanks Park Zoological Gardens. The formal banquet was held at First Presbyterian Church. A feast of steaks, baked potato and all the trimmings were served.

The entertainment for the evening featured Bob Jones from New Jersey, a member of the group Son-rise. He composes, sings and plays on the guitar, some of the finest contemporary music around. He attended CBC in the Spring Quarter of 1977 through the Spring Quarter of 1978. He was noted for the contribution of his musical talents during the class of '80's Freshman Class Chapel. "He doesn't perform, he ministers!"

The senior's were not only presented with the cake pictured, but with a plaque for each and every one, which read:

"So let us know, let us press on to know the Lord, His going forth is as certain as the dawn and He will come to us like the rain, like the spring rain watering the earth." Hosea 6:3

"REFLECTIONS"

What a great God we have! As we, the Finial Staff, look over the pages of this book, memories come flooding back.

- To reflect Christ's glory and honor as seen in the faculty, staff and students of CBC.
- To show God working in lives.
- That this book would be a testimony to anyone who might look at it.

These were our objectives. Each staff member was encouraged to pray and seek God's guidance and wisdom as layouts were drawn up and pictures and verses chosen. The responsibility we had to each other and to the publishers became more and more evident as "deadline dates" came upon us. Each person was assigned specific duties and sections, but we found ourselves working as a unit. It did not seem to matter which portion of the book was due — everyone pitched in and did more than their share.

Times of trials and testing seemed to draw us closer together. It was during these times that we came to a fuller appreciation of each other and of the Lord. Many times it was difficult to get groups or individuals assembled for pictures. However, through these and many other difficult times, we were able to appreciate to a greater extent how God can turn our problems into His opportunity.

At one point we found a discrepancy in the page numbers and changed all of the numbers on every picture of the fifty some pages involved, only to find those missing pages a few weeks later. By God's grace, the company had not gone too far in the processing to have major difficulties in correcting the error.

The other major opportunity for trusting God was 4 days before our third deadline on January 16th. After a batch of weak developing fluid ruined three rolls of film, we reached a potential crisis. There were two alternatives available: retake the pictures or get an extension on our deadline (which could delay the delivery date). After praying together, Sharon called the company representative while the staff continued in prayer. Only twice before had he been in his office when she called. The Lord answered our prayer. Not only was he in, but without a moment's hesitation, said we could hold off the whole deadline until the end of the book. Perhaps those 30 extra pages we had turned in with the second deadline helped!

Over and over again, God has shown His faithfulness to us in many little ways that are far too numerous to express. We have come to the conclusion that this book is not what we have done, but what He has provided.

If Your Life Is Not Reflecting Jesus Christ,

"ALL IS VANITY"

THE FINIAL

The word "finial" is defined by Webster as "a crowning ornament or detail." These finials were originally located on the two towers on the old Columbia Bible College campus. They are presently located in the front yard of Cecil Hawkins' home on faculty row.

The Finial: a crowning ornament, was adopted as the title of the CBC/CGS Yearbook in 1939. In the keeping of this tradition, it is the 1980 Finial Staff's prayer that this year's book would be the crowning of a year dedicated to the glory of Jesus Christ, as reflected in the students, faculty and staff of Columbia Bible College and Columbia Graduate School of Bible and Missions.
